Volunteer Opportunities

The Port Moody Ecological Society is a non-profit, volunteer-run Society. We operate a salmon hatchery and water quality testing lab at Noons Creek and offer nature education programmes to elementary school students during spring and fall. Our mandate is public education as well as the protection of local stream ecosystems.

All orientation and training is provided. Members volunteer when they can - there are no time commitment expectations. We appreciate your show of support in simply purchasing a membership.

Please indicate your interest(s) in the following volunteer opportunities:
